

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

SUMMER 2022

CALLING ALL ENGINEERS: Carollo is hiring interns for upcoming summer projects!

If you're already dreaming about your summer plans, why not dream big? Be sure to check out the amazing paid engineering internships available at Carollo Engineers. Carollo is recruiting for open positions in civil and environmental engineering all across the U.S. If you love working with water, consider joining their team this summer.

Check out the openings now!

Why work with Carollo?

Carollo is the largest firm in the United States dedicated solely to water-related engineering -- it's all they do! That means you'll have opportunities to help make your community a better place with some of the best and brightest (and fun) coworkers in the industry. Plus, Carollo is committed to creating a culture where you feel valued for your uniqueness; differences and commonalities are celebrated; and everyone has opportunities for the advancement they seek.

LEARN MORE
carollo.com/careers

Meet a few interns!

During my last semester of college, I interned with Carollo and worked on several local projects, including the Pearl City Pump Station Upgrades Project. The biggest challenge on this project is that the station must remain in operation during construction, so project phasing is vital. Serving as a Construction Manager and Inspector, I handled all of the project submittals and RFI reviews, while inspecting the work being performed. This experience as an intern allowed me to naturally fill my role as a full-time employee after graduation.

KAYSON SMITH BEJGROWICZ

Carollo Honolulu office

I absolutely loved my time as an intern with Carollo! I was exposed to so many different projects within the water industry and worked with amazing, talented individuals across the country. The staff in the office was extremely welcoming, friendly, and supportive.

MAYA CLIFF

Carollo Washington, DC office

